Online Personal Sessions with Jack Blackburn

Online Tutorials for Webinar Class Students: I'm now offering follow-up online tutorials to those of you who have taken my webinars over the last two years. The tutorials are two hours long and are geared to supporting your direct work with clients and colleagues. You choose the focus of the tutorial and arrange for a client and a setting where we can Zoom- record the session using your cellphone or computer webcam. I will provide feedback during the session and in a formal written report so you can earn 2 CE hours for your part in the learning process. If you want to do an exchange as the tutorial, you can split the fee. You'll each receive session video, certificate, written report, and 1 CE.

Online Trager® Tutorials: I have been a Trager® Tutor since 1993. I am now giving on-line tutorials which consist of your direct work with a client, or your work with a colleague. My interest as tutor is to help you achieve therapeutic outcomes in your sessions. What is it that you want to work on? What have you discovered in your work with clients? Are you incorporating other modalities in your sessions? In addition to developing my own elective classes like Side Lying Somatics and Table Talking, I have also explored various ways of combining our Trager work with other modalities in order to create and document therapeutic results with particular client conditions like: pregnancy, Parkinson's, palliative care, post-operative scares, and various forms of cancer. You'll receive a session video, a certificate, Trager® Tutorial form, and 2 CEs.

Online Bodywork Supervision Sessions: As an AMTA presenter, and as a teacher and sponsor of continuing education classes I started to realize how important it is for touch practitioners to have follow-up supervision sessions for areas of their practice they were trying to improve. Most of us are required to take continuing education to maintain our professional license. Often we are not sure of how to incorporate what we learned as CEs into our practice. Also, as I stated before, we are required to take Ethics but most of the Ethics classes offered do not pertain to difficulties we are experiencing with certain clients and other situations in our practice. As a result I have been giving supervision sessions and CEs for individuals and groups for over 20 years. You'll receive a session video, a certificate, a written report, and 2 CEs.
